Written in The Stars just For You!

Hey GLACURH!!!!!!!!!!

My name is Nicole Pacewic and I am excited and honored to be bidding for the Coordinating Officer of Recognition and Service.

My first experience with GLAUCRH is when I went to my first NACURH 2016. It was my first time in board room. I was nervous and scared but I quickly felt like I belonged because of the amazing RBD. They were encouraging, kind and eager to answer any questions they were true stars. From then on I hoped that one day that I could be apart of the Reginal Board of Directors and help other CC's feel welcomed. But in that moment I thought I could never do that. I was too nervous and afraid of the unknown. But through going to more conferences and being in RHA I have found my voice. Being around all of these star CC's and watching and learning from them I gained so much knowledge about this amazing organization.

Being in RHA has been a huge part of my life since my freshman year. GLACURH and RHA has helped me find a home amongst strangers. But those strangers have quickly become my family. I love getting to share my passion with others and see them fall in love with the organization that means to much to me I hope to be able to represent the region well if I am elected to this position. This is me shooting for the moon.

Peace. Love. Polar Bears!

Dear Regional Board of Directors,

It is with great pride that I write this letter of support for Nicole Pacewic serving on the GLACURH Regional Board of Directors. I have worked with Nicole for two and a half years, and I am confident that you will find her to be a great candidate for the award.

Over the past year, Nicole has continued her growth as a leader on campus at Northern Illinois University and at a number of conferences. Nicole shows her dedication to the university through her work on the Residence Hall Association Executive Board. Taking an active part in program planning and execution, Nicole outsteps her positional duties and creates a positive, team-oriented atmosphere on the executive board.

Nicole has used the knowledge and skills she has gained at conferences to serve as the RHA Parliamentarian in addition to her position as the NCC. Whenever there is a need for Parliamentary Procedure or Robert's Rules of Order, Nicole is prepared to give feedback.

Nicole has served as a liaison and representative of NIU at state, regional, and international conference. In boardroom, Nicole takes an active role in making sure that the institution is well represented. She has developed strong relationships with representatives from other institutions across the state, region, and world. Through those relationships, Nicole has been able to excel at her work.

As an NCC, Nicole organizes delegations to represent NIU at conferences. Nicole works to select a diverse group of students to represent NIU. During delegation meetings, she leads activities to allow the students to get to know each other better and prepare them for what to expect at a conference. Her positivity and knowledge help delegates feel more comfortable with the new experience of conferences.

On behalf of the NIU Residence Hall Association, I am confident that Nicole would service with distinction on the GLACURH Regional Board of Directors.

Best regards,

Director Cassie Govert

Ms. Govert,

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of support on behalf of Nicole Pacewic for the Coordinating officer of Recognition and Service within the GLACURH Regional Board of Directors. Nicole is in excellent academic and behavioral standing with the university, and is consistently a role model in both areas for our residence hall students.

For the past two years, Nicole has served our institution proudly as our National Communications Coordinator. During her time within this position, she has had a positive impact on multiple student delegations at the state, regional, and national level. Through her contagious optimism and motivation, Nicole has helped empower our students to submit more programs for the leadership conferences, diversified the type of students interested in attending conferences, and has lead delegations to winning multiple state, regional, and national awards. As the Coordinating officer of Recognition and Service, I have no doubt she will be able to transition her practical experiences she has gained at NIU into this role.

As the Senior Director of Housing and Residential Services for the Northern Illinois University, I fully support Nicole Pacewic and her pursuit of a position within the GLACURH Regional Board of Directors. Nicole would be an exemplary member of your team, and will bring and will bring a positive and dedicated. If you have any further questions, please feel free to contact me via email at dpedersen2@niu.edu or by phone at 815-753-9651.

Sincerely,

The Standard of responsibilities the law imposes on individuals of corporations is described, as the degree which ordinary prudent individuals prompted by self-interest would exercise under similar circumstances in dealing with their own property.

As a general principle, any individual of non-profit organizations is not liable for the debts, liabilities, or obligations of the corporation; but he/she may be held liable for losses suffered by the corporation as a result of their poor judgment if they do not exercise reasonable diligence in seeking and analyzing the information that is available before they make corporate decisions. In addition, these individuals are liable to the corporation for their own intentional acts, which damage the corporation and for losses resulting from gross negligence. The law presumes that they are knowledgeable about corporate affairs. Regional Board members may delegate corporate activities, but they may not abdicate their duty to direct and may be chargeable with any losses resulting from failure to participate. In the absence of gross negligence, however, these individuals are entitled to base their decisions on data supplied by subordinates. Also, while these individuals are not liable for wrongful acts of people or other agents of the corporation, they are liable to third parties for their own wrongful acts even though they are acting on behalf of the corporation.

Every individual of the corporation is required to exercise his/her powers in good faith with a view to the interests of the corporation. They must subordinate their individual and private interests to their duty to the corporation whenever the two conflict.

No member of a governing board shall be financially interested in any contract or other transaction entered into by the board of which he or she is a member, and any conflict of transaction entered into in violation of this section is void. It should be noted that it is unlawful for any member of the board of an organization to utilize information obtained by reason of membership on the board for personal gain, and the corporation may recover any such gain realized. Finally, in addition to the obligations of the individuals of non-profit corporations share with individuals of other types of corporations, they hold a "public trust" which requires special attention to following not only the letter, but also the spirit of the law.

Therefore,

I understand that I am liable for any actions of gross negligence and financial misuse that occur during my time in office.

I also understand that if the above were to occur and I did not reimburse the region that my host institution may incur the responsibility of the reimbursement at which point my host institution may charge me for the reimbursement and/or take any legal action it wishes.

We have read and understand the aforementioned financial responsibilities for members of the Regional Board of Directors and affirm that these will be fulfilled to the best of our ability.
